Spiritual Living

It's a new day and we're FEELING GOOD!

Yes, indeed, it is a new day for Religious Science, soon becoming Centers for Spiritual Living, as we do the work, and know the truth, for ICSL and UCSL to be integrated. We, of Global Services, are particularly FEELING GOOD. We have been, in Spirit and many actions, integrated since our two teams met each other. UCSL graciously adopted the name, "Global Services," which ICSL was using. Together, we gratefully accept that we are one in serving globally, bringing the great gift of Science of Mind to the world. What a joy!

The doing of our work is an exciting challenge as it has no limit. We, of Global Services, are the leading edge in the world of our teaching...and our organizations.

The people of our Global Core Teams are purely awesome! I feel such an honor and pleasure working with my Co-Chair, Rev. Barbara Rush and all the fine people of much skill and high consciousness dedicated to bringing spiritual principles everywhere. As part of our ICSL Core Team, I also appreciate Rev. Frankie Timmers, on the ICSL Board of Directors, who is guiding and supporting us beautifully.

I am so grateful to Rev. Barbara Shreiner-Trudel for being newsletter editor and now, to Rev. Sharon Mitchell, for accepting this important position.

Statement of Intention: Our intention is to "connect hearts, creating world neighbors."

As a special focus ministry we are devoted to inspiring, teaching and empowering people within our global communities to create and live the life of their dreams. The purpose of this outreach ministry is to serve our international communities in becoming ever more aware of our oneness of Spirit, in, through, and as all of humanity.

In October 2009 a group of ten journeyed to the interior of Kisii, Kenya, to bring gifts of school supplies, clothes, Science of Mind books, CD players and Ministerial messages, and most importantly to share our philosophy of ONENESS AND LOVE.

We were met by the eight leaders that have small seeded SOM Study Groups there and travelled from village to village meeting their wonderful families, communities, and the orphans they so compassionately take care of.

Editor's Post

Dear Readers,

When I attended the Global Services meeting in San Diego this year I was inspired and awed at the inclusivity and phenomenal achievements of this Global Services group. UCSL and ICSL were already integrated, the perfect out-picturing of their intention.

I am thrilled to be involved in such a dynamic and diversified group.

Creating the Global Services E-News has been a delight, and one of the many opportunities presented was the discovery of the many countries and beautiful people involved. In this E-News alone, there are articles from Pakistan, Russia, Mexico, Kenya and Moldova. And it's just the beginning!

Every member of the Global Services Core Team is enthusiastic and steadfast in their commitment to growing this teaching and living the vision to touch 100 million lives. On pages 3-4 we've shared the Core Team's pictures and their personal visions, one of which is a haiku!

I have included flags of the various countries for interest and quick reference to the many lives being affected by this group.

For the geographically challenged among us, one of which I am, I found this delightful website for flags and maps www.mapsofworld.com/ It's excellent!

We hope that the E-News will be shared with your community.

Regards, Rev. Sharon

You, our readers, please know that we want you to not only know what is happening throughout the world, but we want your involvement.

How?

- Through Spiritual Mind Treatment, of course!
- Through financial support, as you feel led. This is important so we can implement in work the ideas we have to serve.
- Through offering ideas and through volunteering your talents, time, skills and interests at Conferences and in between them.
- You sharing stories of your activities and demonstrations in different parts of the world would be very appreciated.

You can contact me at revnancyaa@gmail.com, or others of our Global Core Team.

We consider you, because of your interest in global growth, a partner in Spirit.

Together we are allowing the 21st Century to be the century of knowing and living Unity.

In Love and Faith,

My vision is to assist in bringing our PRINCIPLES AND TEACHING to those world citizens who are seeking spiritual truth bringing HOPE and LOVE of LIFE that they deserve to live. I am grateful to serve as Co-Chair of our Global Services Team where we are indeed standing in our truth and being the voice of our Science of Mind

Rev. Gregory Toole Liaison for UCSL

Rev. Gregory Toole is the Ecclesiastical Leader for United Centers for Spiritual Living where he oversees and leads the activities and programs serving its many centers, churches, practitioners, and ministers. He expresses his spiritual gifts as a writer, speaker, teacher, and counselor. He is completing his first book, entitled "A Simple Guide to Planetary Transformation," which gives practical guidance for how one can use their personal spiritual practices and growth to transform the planet.

Rev. Frankie Timmers Liaison for ICSL

Rev. Frankie is a beautiful example of someone who 'dives deep' and walks the talk. She is a lover of God and life, taking the Science of Mind teaching seriously and herself lightly.

I am that I AM
I am WE
WE are One, THE One.

Rev. Melanie Burns, Conferences and Events

Via conferences, we offer inspiring and creative ways to educate our SOM family at large about the many ways to support our pioneers who are starting and maintaining works worldwide. No words can express the unity and love felt from embracing our worldwide family and assisting each other in personal transformation through our Science of Mind teaching.

Being guided by the Divine Flow, my mission is to help people become aware of their Divine nature so as to live in joy, love, oneness and abundance.

Rev. Bob Grabowski Global Ecclesiastical Representative, UCSL

I have taught and paneled practitioners in Mexico, Peru, Russia, South Africa, and Ukraine, and last year, ordained the first two ministers in Russia.

I am a long-time member of the predecessors of global resources. I taught in Russia as a practitioner and was so taken by the experience that I returned to the U.S. and went to ministerial school. Passion then and now is to share the teachings of SOM outside the U.S.

Rev. Kathy Jordan, Co-Vice Chair; Secretary

My personal Global Services vision involves increasing our visibility within our organization, since I believe Global Services is at the forefront of our organization's future. It is my joy to reach out and connect with anyone in the world, to touch their hearts and their minds with the Science of Mind teaching, and then watch them blossom and grow in prosperity and love.

Rev. Margo Ruark Translations

My vision is to translate The Science of Mind textbook into every major language on the planet. Growth of the movement starts with making translations of the textbook available to as many as possible.

Dr. Tom Sannar, Distance Learning Program, Chair, Education

I'm involved in global services in order to bring the teachings of Science of Mind to the world through distance learning. We have already established contact with students in India, China, South America and Africa. We have made a pledge to have more people practicing Science of Mind in the world than those practicing in the United States and Canada within five years.

Paul Joseph Skok, RScP, Co-Vice Chair

To inspire and lead Global Services to new heights of participation in the integration of the UCSL and ICSSL Global Vision, through growing our centers, and global projects of food, water, sustainability, education, and the teachings of Science of Mind.

Lawrence Toliver, RScP, Volunteers

Every beam of life-giving light that traverses the globe and reaches us needs our helping hands, hearts, thoughts and prayers.

Rev. Sheila Weldon, Treasurer, Mentor Chair

I have worked with Global Services since its beginning. Our vision has grown into one of being of service to people in countries who have never even heard of Ernest Holmes. I believe that my task of matching Mentors with Students in other countries is vital to the growth of the Science of Mind throughout the world. I am proud to be a member of the Global Services Team.

Rev. Sharon Mitchell, E-News Editor

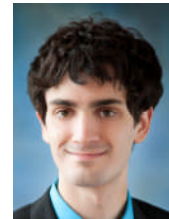

To celebrate and support the growth of SOM philosophy through communication and technology. (and mousing around!)

Lily Murray Co-chair, Youth Sub-Committee

My vision for the youth work with Global Services would be to teach the world that after all, We are one big family. Growing by teaching new thought and creating different outreach opportunities around the world. Working with new thought to create a better environment for youth around the world.

Chris Yamas, Co-chair, Youth Sub-Committee

I am in such immense awe in how Global Services has expanded; how many lives we have touched. It is truly Spirit in action, and I am so grateful that I have this movement and teaching in my life and that I have the opportunity to share it with others.

Dr. Rebeka Piña Global Services Emeritus

Rev. Dr. Rebeka Piña has been KEY to the growth of Spanish-speaking SOM in Mexico, Latin and South American countries.

Dr. Rebeka created Science of Mind in Mexico City. She is the Founding Director of Ciencia de la Mente, CSL México.

She is an original member of UCSL Global Services Core Team and serves AGNT and INTA Advisors Committee.

Global Services acknowledges and honors her contributions to global outreach.

Request for treatments

Well now reason for delay is again the terrific situation of the city since I came (from 2nd July) up till now. City was closed for 6-7 days. Firing and killing and my internet was not working even. So could not write you.

Keep us in prayers.

Could not start our group meetings, but I met few members individually. As we plan to start again our meetings I'll inform you.

Keep me with you

Dear Nancy,

It's great to be with you again.

We had two wonderful programs last Saturday and Sunday. As I mentioned in my previous email on Saturday 7th May we have to go a nearby beach (island Manora) it was approximate two hours meditation session planned there.

We were expecting 15-20 People in the session but due to some problems in the city only 8 could join including me.

(I will be able to send you a small movie clip of the session as we ended up).

This meditation session was based on self realization and conscious prayers of peace especially in the city and generally in the world.

Shahzad Anjum (in Maroon shirt) is presented with bouquet by Pastor Navid

On Sunday 8th with a local group we celebrated Mother's day and this program was actually hosted by SEED GROUP members.

Here we introduced our weekly programs and introduced our group. Not only my group but the people also enjoyed it. Approximately 150-160 people attended the program. Snacks served at the end for the audience.

I am attaching few pictures of the event.

Keep us in prayers

SCIENCE OF MIND CENTERS IN RUSSIA

IZHEVSK. "FUND POSITIVE THINKING". Leader Rev Emelyanova

Usually the educational year starts in September with the Foundation course. New practitioners are giving weekly lectures and have started the Ministry of prayer. They also are preparing their lectures for our summer conference in August. The translation of the book Spiritual Economy written by Eric Butterworth is finished, so this book in Russian will be available for all centers of SOM in Russia and Ukraine. (Great thanks to UCSL for funding this translation). Two practitioners are working with 3 groups of kids at the orphanage. Right now we are busy with preparations for the conference. The title is "You Can Do It." Dates of the conference are: August 23-29, 2011. We invite our American colleagues to come and present lectures and workshops. For more details feel free to contact us ☺

There are 5 teaching chapters and 2 study groups in Russia. Here is a list of the leaders of the group and the approximate number of practitioners in each center:

2 Ordained Ministers and 80 practitioners in Russia

Teaching chapters, leaders and number of practitioners:

Izhevsk	Izhevsk is close to the Urals mountain chain	Rev Galina Emelyanova	35 practitioners
Sochi	Sochi is situated on the Black Sea shore, it is a popular Russian resort, Olympic games will take place there in 2014.	Rev Alexander Tensin	2 practitioners
Kazan	Kazan is 1000 years old, it is the capital of Tatarstan republic, it is Islam republic in Russia Federation, it is 900 km away from Moscow to the east.	Guzal Sadykova RScP	10 practitioners
Votkinsk	Votkinsk is famous for Peter Tchaikovsky who was born there, it is 60 km away from Izhevsk	Olga Busygina RScP	14 practitioners
Nizhney Novgorod	Nizhney Novgorod is also a very old Russian city it is situated on two rivers Volga and Oka	Irina Babushkina RScP	6 practitioners

Study groups leaders and number of practitioners:	Balakhna	Maria Lapshina RScP Vladimir Ivanov RScP	2 practitioners
	Moscow	Valya Zholud RScP Tatiana BabashkinaRScP	12 practitioners

What would be the greatest thing Global Services can provide to help bring the teaching of Science of Mind to our people?

We are very glad to invite American teachers to present their lectures and workshops at annual conferences which take place in Russia

Our first practitioners conference took place July 8-10, 2011, it was a great event for all of us!

The Title was "God Is Connections Between Us". When you became a practitioners it is very important to support each other in serving others, continue developing your skills and also continue your own personal path to a deepen your oneness with life.

Now we have our monthly practitioners support skype calls. There will be 2 conferences for practitioners a year.

Letters From Around The World –Mexico & Kenya

Chihuahau, Mexico

This is a summary of what I am doing right now here in the city of Chihuahua in Mexico:

1. I have a group of 12 persons that get together to talk about universal principles. The class started as an English advanced class and we have turned it into a study group. (the class is run in English)
2. I have a group of 4 persons that are studying the Science of Mind Textbook in Spanish getting familiarized with the principles so that we can begin formal classes at some point.
3. I have my retreat home where I am organizing workshops on various topics for groups (open to the public) once a month.
4. I am in the process of putting together a radio spot (two, actually) with a local radio station on readings from the treatments of the Creative Thought® magazine, one in Spanish and one in English.
5. I am organizing my first spiritual journey to the Copper Canyon this June 2011 with six people signed up so far.
6. The weekly inspirational reading from Rev. Rebeka Piña and the daily meditations from Circle's Edge that I receive via e-mail are shared with as many people in my group as possible.

If you have any questions, please let me know.
Thanks.

Hello Dr. Nancy.
The computer is helping my group to study the Religious Science website, divisions of Religious Science and how they work globally. We are also studying various lessons sent by Rev. Connie, Rev. Barbara Walley and others using the computer. We do use the computer to write and receive email and even down load photos, teachings.

Samuel Motanda & daughter Fanka

Like in this ongoing medical outreach, we could prepare different posters using the computer advertising for the medical exercise and we printed several copies and then printed them within our community for people to know. This thus made many people to attend. In our country Kenya, computers are not as common as in your country. Here only a few have them and so many do not know how to use them. As a result of your gift, some of my group members can now operate the computer on their own. We are using the machine to store various messages as a remembrance in future thus this has proved the easiest way of communication. This is helping me to study more on medical line when I turn to google search.

Nancy! We expect more to join us and we need more machines i.e laptop computers, set of Projector machine to avoid congestion in one machine and for efficient study. The generator is powerful and can carry as many machines as possible.

Blessings and love, Samuel.

Samuel

Thank you for your message and your explanation of the use you are making of the computer and printer our organization gave you. Good use, I see.

I continue to know that God is working in and through you and others to bring forth the needed supplies for your clinic and expanded work...and to inspire you in the work of helping yourself and others awaken to the Truth of being a Creative Center of Infinite God, of Good. Love and blessings... Dr. Nancy

Letters From Around The World - The African Connection

Kenya

Someone told me, before I went to Africa, that it would be life changing... little did I know just how much those words would prove to be true. I know that the learning I had, in teaching both the adult classes and the children's classes in the slums, are valuable techniques that can be applied anywhere. One of the first realizations was that curriculum, and the way it was presented, had to be revamped.

I have always been passionate about taking this teaching to the streets outside of the Centre's walls, into schools, prisons, businesses and even to the City's parks and rec program. Taking the 'lingo' out of the literature and out of my own mind is a challenge that I embrace, but teaching in Africa took this practice to a whole new level.

Because of the cultural differences it quickly became clear that the words used had a different meaning, or even no meaning, and a new way of teaching was required. Even the stories I would normally use to make a point wouldn't have any relevance.

One of the classes that I taught was in an urban slum school to a class of 35 student's grades 5 - 8, I used the UCSL Virtues, Pathways to Power curriculum.

Grades 5 - 8

At the first class I realized that the stories used would have no meaning for children in Africa living in the slums, even the craft projects weren't relevant. As I searched for relevant examples I began to wonder how many students over the years could have benefited from a new approach to teaching. What I discovered is that in order to transcend the language and cultural differences that I needed to meet them where they are.

Boy in the slums praying

If the immediate need is for food then we used that as the example to apply Principle to manifest food. The following is a wonderful story that illustrates this.

"I may not support your philosophy but that doesn't mean I don't support you."

Rev. Philip

Rev Connie & Nairobi Class

One day, while travelling on a 'matatu' or mini-bus, I met a fellow minister and he offered me his number so we met for coffee.

Matatu

I was having challenges with the Kenyan Immigration office and he said he could help as he knows people in that department.

Since Rev. Philip is an evangelical minister we spent some time discussing our varied philosophies and he said something quite profound "I may not support your philosophy but that doesn't mean I don't support you".

He did indeed follow through and expedited my paperwork in acquiring a 'dependents pass' that allowed me to stay in the country after my visitor's visa expired.

At around the same time I was contacted by Global Services about a shipment of food packages through Outreach Africa that Rev. Keith Cox and the teen groups had packaged and wanted me to distribute the food packages in Kenya. Because of the ongoing challenges I was facing around educating the Kenyan groups about our organization being one of "teaching how to fish, not giving the fish" I was really hesitant about taking the food as I didn't want to be known as the minister with the food.

The need there is so great with such a deep rooted consciousness of lack, and a history of 'mazungu's' (white people) coming in with relief that that is their expectation.

So, I contacted Rev. Philip to ask if he would like to work with me on the project.

He runs a girl's residential orphanage school serving approximately 45 students and had an empty storage space from which we could distribute the food.

While we were deciding on the best course of action for the food he contacted me and said he needed to meet with me urgently.

That day he had a truck load of 72 orphaned children from war torn Congo show up at his school seeking food and shelter and they said to expect another 45 children in a few days.

This excerpt is from a recent email from Rev. Philip:

"The children are increasing - refugees are from Congo, Burundi, Rwanda, the war torn countries. These children, majority of them are orphans, with a lot of complication, traumatized because of having been raped and infected with sickness/ diseases, stayed for some days without food, having been witnessed people being murdered or dying on the way they seeking refuge through lorry transport due to congestion and lack of ventilation.

To be sincere i don't know where to start and where to end- they are here with only the food you left."

WOW

I absolutely know that this is such a valuable teaching and is applicable to everyone.

Any person that has a desire to have a new experience of life can use Principle, so the question in my mind is: how do we fulfill our mission of touching the lives of 100 million people?

I believe that it requires that each one of us tap into the wealth of knowledge inside each of us and find new ways of reaching out. We may not all be called to go into a 'third world country' to teach, but each one of us has been called to share this magnificent teaching and I would love to hear how you have adapted your methods to reach out and touch the lives of those in your communities, your cities and your travels.

Letters From Around the World - Moldova

Moldova

Steliana Burlacu of Chisinau, Moldova began her spiritual study years ago reading Louise Hay, Deepak Chopra and Eckart Tolle. She was using affirmations, writing them on walls and keeping lists in her folders. Every day she was meditating, observing her thoughts and reactions to external events. For long years she worked on herself and her belief system. She was doing all this in order to improve her health, life and to come free of depression. The solutions she found were in discovering the essence of life which is Love, by finding God, the ONE Spirit and all Universal Spiritual Laws.

Her parents and relatives were amazed how all her physical problems in her body "miraculously disappeared without chemical medicines."

Dear Nancy,
Thank you for the birthday wishes. I am now teaching the "Interior World" course for a group of 6 people. This course comprises 16 lessons plus 2 seminars of 6 hours and is based on 4 main themes: Health, Wealth, Relationships and Creativity. Ron Skeen was present at the first class and will come visiting me in the end of May for the last 2-3 lessons and graduation.

Please see in the attachment a photo with the group.

Love and Light, Steliana

Her continuing spiritual search led to discovering Science of Mind. She herself took the UCSL Foundational Course and then shared it with others, having her first class of 5 people recently graduate.

She said her students became aware of their responsibility for what happened in their lives. They understood that they are the creators of their lives and only Love can heal.

They become more loving. One man used affirmations and visualization to demonstrate a new car.

A woman finally succeeded in forgiving and understanding her sister during the lesson on forgiveness.

Now, when she meets any of these people they ask, "When will we continue the study?"

Hello Margo, Peacemaker!

So here's the first draft of my Translation to Farsi, The I Believe Statements by Ernest Holmes.

I am barely getting my feet wet in translation. Never done this before. I can ask a few people to proof read perhaps to assess the accuracy of meaning!

FYI: I am fluent in Farsi & English.

Almost Graduated High School in Iran in 1983, Studied Bi-Lingual English/Farsi International School from the age of 3 to 17 with some little French which I forgot.

I also speak Spanish enough to communicate with my Co-workers, like a 5th grader probably!

Anyway, this should give us a Good Start. Where do we go from here?

The Freedom To Think One's Own Thoughts

by Kamran Moradi

To be free is to be capable of thinking one's own thoughts - not the thoughts merely of the body, or of society, but thoughts generated by one's deepest, most original, most essential and spiritual self, one's individuality." Rudolph Steiner 1861-1925

"I was born 1966 in Tehran, Iran. My father, a law graduate, determined to give me a great education, sent me to bilingual private schools. The outcome was philosophically incongruent to his own religious beliefs, as I was exposed to international classmates and alternative ways of thinking. At home, there was the implicit expectation of dogmatic practice, race-consciousness if you will. We used to sing "Grease" and "Flashdance" songs on the school bus, but at home we experienced religious rituals and judgment--a violation of Inner Peace. This conflict in lifestyles was confusing to me as a child, missing the freedom to play. Disapproval, shame, and guilt were often enforced. Naturally, I was a rebel, a Non-Conformist, questioning limitations in life and illegitimate authority.

In 1979, the Islamic Revolution of Iran ended 2500 years of monarchy. This event turned millions of lives around, bringing back archaic religious control upon the masses. Race-consciousness was re-strengthened. Many people fled the country in search of a better life. Today, there are over 4 million Farsi speaking people outside of Iran. Translating Science of Mind to Farsi/Persian has the potential of reaching over 83 Million people in Iran, Afghanistan & Pakistan alone (per Farsinet.com).

Today, what promotes separation of the faiths is ignorance, fueled by fear of the unknown. Ethnocentric lifestyles assume that their group is exclusively chosen by God and that their religion is the final one! "Baradari va Barabari" which means "Brotherhood & Equality" is a staple of Islam. In other words, we are all equal!

Having arrived at my own conclusion that good people come from all religions and that all paths to God should be respected, I felt the yearning to seek the truth. In November 2008, I and my family discovered the Seaside Center for Spiritual Living in Encinitas, CA. We were looking for an all-faiths church where people from all walks of life were welcome and the real meaning of Christmas and the Holidays was conveyed. The candlelight service was very special, loving and inclusive of many faiths: Christian, Jewish, Hindu, Muslim, Babylonians (Shabeh Yalda - Return of the Light). Rev. Christian's warm words were inviting and we felt right at home.

As an active member of Seaside, I have taken many classes to continue to enlighten my path. Belonging to a community of conscious people, I am a happier person with purpose today. I look forward to collaborating with some Farsi speaking volunteers to translate Science of Mind and spread the word of Inner Peace and end self-mutilation and religious abuse. We have started with The Declaration of Principles of Ernest Holmes! Give us your blessings!

Global Services Core Team Focus: Dr. Nancy Anderson

I am Dr. Nancy Anderson, I started doing international work for Religious Science International in 1999. I now Chair Global Services for ICSL.

We are in close partnership with Global Services for UCSL and I have so enjoyed working with and coming to know Chair, Rev. Barbara Rush and her fine team and truly love and respect those who are the ICSL Core Team. I deeply appreciate both my organization for the honor, and also those of you who participated in my Doctorate Ceremony February 27, 2011.

Dr. Kenn Gordon & Dr. Nancy Anderson
Doctoral Ceremony

I thank Drs. Gisela and Tom Sannar for hosting the event at their fine One Heart One Mind Center for Spiritual Living.

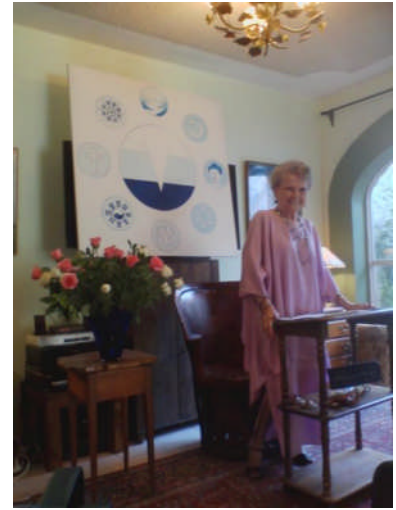

With Rev. Margo Ruark I co-author an "International Focus" article monthly for Creative Thought® magazine.

I began in this teaching in 1963 in San Diego, California, and Dr. Chet Castellaw was my minister and teacher, all the way through ministerial studies.

The organization then was IARSC and then RSI and now ICSL... and I am so happy that we are now integrating with UCSL and will soon be legally, as well as at heart, Centers for Spiritual Living.

I officially retired from ministry the end of 2001, in the sense of ceasing to be pastor of the Religious Science church I founded in 1975, that was located in Encinitas, California. It was a great joy to me when Drs. Gisela and Tom became co-pastors of this church and led it in some wonderful new directions...and to a new location.

I live in San Miguel de Allende, Guanajuato, Mexico where my husband, Owen, and I founded what we call The Center for Unity in Diversity. I lead personal philosophy of life meetings, prayer meetings and occasionally give classes and do Sunday Services.

There are many of you who truly support the work of expanding our teaching world wide and to you, I, and all of Global Services, are grateful!

I shall always be passionate about bringing this teaching to people in the world and seeing lives change, and know we are contributing to the whole shift in consciousness that shall let "the world work for everyone."

Late Breaking News Release!

Dr. Nancy Anderson (Chair of Global Services for ICSL) was the guest speaker at the Friday, July 15, service at the Science of Mind Center in Ajijic, Jalisco, Mexico where Dr. Tim Schubert (UCSL) is minister. Her topic was "Higher Purpose."

She travelled to Ajijic from where she lives in San Miguel de Allende, Guanajuato, to be a guest in the home of Victor Solo, who is a member of the Ajijic SOM center.

She attended the class on "The Sermon on the Mount" that Victor gives once a week for the metaphysical community in Ajijic.

Dr. Holmes Academy - Bathinda, Punjab, India

Dr. Holmes Academy was a dream of the late pastor, Rev. Karminder Chohan.

Because of his outstanding education, Rev. Karminder's passion was to give back to his native country by educating the rural children of Punjab.

"We are excited about the project, and we invite you to join us in manifesting better education for rural children in India." - Rev. Karminder & Rev. Jacqueline Chohan

Dr. Holmes Academy, began in 1994 with classes for preschool through third grade and had 39 students.

The school now has over 300 students, preschool through ninth grade. The school is located in Bathinda, Punjab, India, Dist Jidda.

The school has finally been accredited by the Punjab government, which means the school will now include high school. The school is located in Bathinda, Punjab, India, Dist Jidda.

A new Science of Mind Center for Peace is being birthed August 19-21 at a conference in Geneva, Switzerland. You are invited to "Discover Your Center for Peace" by attending this magnificent event hosted by Beth Linguri, RScP. UCSL's Spiritual Leader Rev. Dr. Kathy Hearn will be the Keynote Speaker, and Rev. Michael Gott will delight all with his musical talent.

This is truly an International Conference with speakers, workshops, and meditations by Rev. Roger Juline, Kathy Juline, RScP, Revs. Bob and Barbara Grabowski, Marie Emelyanova, RScP from Russia, and others.

Your tour begins with discovering and exploring beautiful Geneva as well as being in service at a community volunteer center before the conference begins. Your post-conference tour (August 22-27), hosted by Kathy and Roger Juline, journeys around Lake Geneva to Zermatt and later to Ticino in the southern Swiss Alps and the mystical Monte Verita, the "Mountain of Truth," rising above the harbor village of Ascona and the jagged-banked Lake Maggiore.

Or perhaps this summer you feel that a trip to Russia is calling you. A trip is being planned from August 21-31, arriving in St. Petersburg to visit the world-famous Hermitage Museum, cathedrals, and the Russian Ballet. After a few lovely days, you will travel to Moscow to visit Red Square, the Kremlin, and the breathtaking St. Basil's Cathedral. Then off to Izhevsk to spend three wonderful days at your first Russian Science of Mind Conference entitled "You Can Do It," where you will enjoy meeting your delightful Russian brothers and sisters.
